Executive Summary

Mayor and Council,

On the cover of this month's report is a picture from our annual Employee Appreciation Dinner and Christmas Celebration. As I know all of you are aware, we have an amazing team that strives daily to make this City a place of which our residents and businesses can be proud. We understand that we won't always hit the mark. We won't be perfect. When we don't, however, these team members that we call our "Glenpool Family" want to learn and grow as we reach toward our mission of "building trust". We all understand that this goal is not a one-time event or horizon to achieve, but a never-ending calling. I am extremely proud of our Glenpool Family! They exemplify the servant-minded work ethic that is needed to help communities prosper.

As you review the following departmental reports, I hope you take notice of the number of different projects that have been completed or are in progress. Allow me to take a moment and highlight a few of those that are in the report and add a few others that I believe are informative.

- The Hwy 67/75 Corridor Study recommendations are set to be discussed during the Jan 5th meeting. We will be holding further meetings with ODOT after discussing these findings with the Council.
- Our monthly sales tax continues to fluctuate significantly. We continue to monitor the impact to the budget and have begun reviewing expenditures and projects in the event our revenue is less than the budget expectations.
- The 2nd Quarter update for Move Glenpool Forward is completed and included in this report. We have 11 different projects in the pipeline currently.
- Residential permits are down in 2025 compared to 2024. Our Development Services team has had discussions with several residential developers in recent months and believe we will see some movement on new residential growth in 2026. Additionally, The Glenpool Industrial Authority Board will be asked to approve a Housing Study. This study will be instrumental in helping the City understand our housing market, determine improvements that can be made to our code and processes, and provide valuable data that will help us strategically position ourselves to encourage housing growth.
- As our road and park maintenance has slowed over the winter months, these crews spent time assisting our water distribution team with the cleanout of meter boxes. This assistance with this routine maintenance item is just another great example of how our teams work together to live out the City's Core Values.

- The Police Department has partnered with Tulsa and other regional law enforcement agencies in the adoption of the Blue Envelope program. This is a great example of how our law enforcement continues to expand their level of service to the community.
- Upcoming Community Events/City Holidays:
  - Martin Luther King Day- January 19th

Decemebr 2025 Report

CONFERENCE CENTER

December was a month full of celebrations at the Glenpool Conference Center, with a calendar packed with events and festive gatherings. The majority of our bookings consisted of Christmas parties, ranging from corporate celebrations to community-based events, showcasing the center as a preferred destination for holiday festivities. The high volume of parties created a lively atmosphere throughout the month and reflected strong demand during the holiday season.

EVENTS TO HIGHLIGHT

- The Native American Christmas Market, returned again this year and featured local Native American artists and vendors offering handmade items, artwork, jewelry, and other traditional goods. The market continues to support small businesses while giving the community an opportunity to come together and enjoy a culturally meaningful event during the holiday season. Its ongoing success shows the value of providing space for events that celebrate and support diverse traditions.
- The Glenpool Community Christmas Shoppe, which the Conference Center hosted for its 14th year. This annual event supports families in need by providing a free Christmas shopping experience for parents to select gifts for their children, reinforcing the center's ongoing role in community support.

Overall, December was a busy and productive month. The mix of holiday parties and community-focused events shows the Conference Center's ability to support both private rentals and important local programs. The level of activity throughout the month provides a strong close to the year and a solid starting point for the months ahead.

HEADLINES

The Christmas parade was conducted without issue and the department enjoyed helping in the parade and attending the tree lighting at Black Gold Park.

For more than ten years, the departments FOP has adopted angels from the schools Angel Tree. This year was no different, they completed shopping for several Angels, and we hope it brings a smile to their face this Christmas.

The police department partnered with all the Tulsa Metro law enforcement departments on a new initiative. The "Blue Envelope Program" The Blue Envelope Program is a voluntary community safety initiative used by many law enforcement agencies to improve interactions between police officers and people who may have communication challenges, disabilities, or conditions that can make routine encounters (like traffic stops) stressful or hard to navigate. We will provide the blue envelope and supporting documentation to any citizen who believes it could help them interact with first responders.
